My Legendary Girlfriend. Meet Will Kelly. English teacher. Film fan. King of sandwich construction. Still in love with The One, desperately searching for An-Other One. In his decrepit flat, Will's lifeline is the telephone. There's Alice (who remembers his birthday), Simon (who doesn't), Martina (the one-night stand), Kate (the previous tenant of his rented Archway fleapit) and of course Aggi - the inimitable Aggi.

Clive O'Rourke's name would never be forgotten, it would be permanently etched on her brain just as my ex-girlfriend's was on mine. And at some point in her future, mostly likely after completing her journey through the education system right up to degree level, she'd realise that a life pining after the Clive O'Rourkes of this world ...

My Legendary Girlfriend also suffers from the fact that Will isn't that likeable a character, due to his severe slobiness, and just pure patheticness in not moving on for three years after being dumped by his then girlfriend Aggi. All this guy does is sit around and mope about her and the fact that he is a now a teacher, a job he doesn't like.
